Not Just a Store—A Pet Health Resource

Owner Chris, a former regulatory medicine expert with over 25 years in the field, brings a clinical mindset to retail. That means when a customer walks in asking why their dog has skin problems or digestive issues, they get more than shelf talk—they get an informed response based on real nutritional science.

Customers often report:

- Healthier coats and fewer skin issues
- Improved digestion and fewer upset stomachs
- Reduced anxiety and mood swings
- Fewer vet visits over time

As one reviewer put it: “Go see Chris—he knows how to solve for ‘my dog eats his own poop.’”
