also provides unparalleled networking opportunities.

"At Saniflow, we understand the critical balance between functionality, aesthetics, and environmental responsibility—especially in the cruise industry," said Jennifer Milanes, National Manager at Saniflow Corp. "We're excited to showcase how our hygienic and eco-conscious restroom solutions can meet the unique needs of shipboard environments, as well as the hospitality industry as a whole."

Interact with team members

Attendees visiting Saniflow's booth will experience firsthand the company's latest innovations, including the U-Flow, which was just awarded two prestigious awards in 2024 for innovation and design from the Chicago Athenaeum Museum as well as from Facility Maintenance News. Additionally, the company has just unveiled their All-In-One complete faucet system in a stunning new chrome-brass black finish. This faucet system is completely touchless and is helping to make facility managers and customers lives a whole lot easier with its space-saving technology. Saniflow corp. will also have their sustainable Babymedi changing station on display as well, showing how the ionizing technology works within the surface to help prevent the growth of bacteria.

Designed for durability, ease of maintenance, and sustainability, Saniflow's hygienic restroom solutions are trusted globally facilities and venues of all kinds, whether it's in the sports, education, transportation, hospitality, and now, increasingly, the marine industry as well.

CSI Expo visitors can expect engaging product demos, one-on-one consultations, and exclusive insights into Saniflow's commitment to eco-friendly innovation in high-traffic spaces.
