management. The partnership enhances Incentive Rebate360's Energy Efficiency Partner Hub by adding a proven technology that helps public and private sector organizations reduce IT energy consumption, lower operating costs, and unlock valuable incentives.

WakeSMART empowers organizations with intelligent tools to measure, manage, and monitor computer energy use in real-time, without impacting end-user productivity. Designed for large-scale environments, it streamlines operations through features like remote wake, asset monitoring, and predictive update scheduling, helping IT teams optimize performance while supporting broader sustainability goals.

Key Benefits of the Incentive Rebate360 and WakeSMART Partnership

- Proven Energy Savings – WakeSMART reduces computer energy use by an average of 30%, driving measurable reductions in electricity costs and carbon emissions.
- Maximized Rebate Opportunities – Incentive Rebate360 identifies and secures utility incentives tied to IT energy efficiency, increasing project ROI with minimal administrative burden.
- Non-Disruptive Power Management – WakeSMART automates energy-saving policies without interrupting end-user workflows or device performance.
- Enhanced IT Visibility & Control – Features like remote wake, battery health tracking, and predictive scheduling help IT teams streamline fleet operations.

- Scalable for Large Environments – Ideal for public sector institutions, schools, and enterprises managing thousands of computers across distributed locations.

“We’re excited to welcome WakeSMART to our Energy Efficiency Partner Hub,” said Jeanette Strickstein, VP of Operations at Incentive Rebate360. “Their technology fills a critical gap in IT energy efficiency, bringing automation, accuracy, and real-time insights to computer fleet management. This partnership enables our clients to achieve deeper energy savings while qualifying for rebates that may have otherwise gone untapped.”

As part of the collaboration, Incentive Rebate360 will support organizations using WakeSMART by identifying and securing available utility rebates and incentive programs tied to IT energy efficiency. From initial qualification to final rebate disbursement, Incentive Rebate360 manages the entire incentive process, ensuring clients receive maximum returns on their energy-saving investments.
