

Smithers AI Launches 'Your Twin' Webinar Tech That Never Sleeps

WILMINGTON, DE, UNITED STATES, May 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Smithers AI today unveiled a webinar solution that acts as a tireless digital twin for businesses, answering questions and generating leads even while owners sleep. Unlike traditional platforms that force users to choose between stressful live events and forgettable recordings, Smithers AI deploys customizable avatars that mimic human presenters down to their voice and gestures.

Why Old Webinar Tools Are Costing You Clients

Legacy systems create two lose-lose scenarios:

1. Live webinars: Require perfect timing, drain energy, and miss viewers in different time zones.
2. Recordings: Fail to answer questions, feel impersonal, and collect dust after one use.

Smithers AI's Game-Changing Difference

The platform acts like a cloned team member who:

- Hosts thousands of webinars simultaneously using AI avatars that look/sound like you.
- Engages viewers in real-time with instant answers to questions via AI chatbots.
- Generates leads automatically by capturing contact info without pop-ups or forms.

"It's your voice, your face, and your expertise – working 24/7 across every time zone," explains Janelle Smithers, PR Director. "Our users' AI clones have doubled lead generation while cutting workload by 75%."

Real Results from Real Businesses

Early adopters report:

- 97% more qualified leads for a consulting firm using AI-hosted sessions.

- 60% higher attendance rates through automated reminders and personalized invites.
- 85% better client satisfaction via instant answers and always-available sessions.

Why This Matters in 2024

With remote work and global audiences becoming standard, businesses need webinar tools that scale without adding staff. Smithers AI turns pre-recorded content into interactive, lead-generating conversations that adapt to viewer questions – no human needed.
