Morae Global Corporation

Founded in 2002, Gimmal helps enterprises and government agencies tackle their most complex, mission-critical information governance challenges at scale across the full information lifecycle. By integrating Gimmal's industry-leading IG software products with Morae's existing technology and comprehensive suite of legal and compliance solutions, Morae will further strengthen its position in and penetration of the legal technology market. The combined platform will enable Morae clients to more effectively manage their full information lifecycle – from creation and classification to retention, migration and defensible disposition – with state-of-the-art software solutions.

Shahzad Bashir, Chairman and CEO at Morae, stated, "Our clients want complete, comprehensive solutions that address increasingly complex legal, regulatory, and operational demands. Whether the need is software-driven or service-led, our mission is to deploy our significant expertise to create the best-in-class, advanced tech-based solutions that are most relevant to them. The combination of Gimmal's software with Morae's MorAI technology, services and consultancy will deliver an unmatched breadth and depth of offerings in our field, meaningfully enhancing the solutions we provide for our clients' information governance and management needs."

Craig Carpenter, CEO of Gimmal, commented, "Joining Morae, a company with global reach and deep, trusted legal technology expertise, marks an exciting new chapter for Gimmal and serves as a huge value-add to our clients seeking holistic, end-to-end solutions. Plugging the leading information governance software into the leading, global legal technology company will deliver myriad new benefits and synergies for our global network of corporate legal departments and law firms."
