Virtual event to feature international experts, researchers, and targeted survivors May 21 – June 3, 2025

NA, TX, UNITED STATES, May 14, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- From concerns over digital privacy to the rise in reported psychological coercion and experimental surveillance technologies, conversations about personal autonomy are rapidly evolving.

The upcoming Radical Truths Summit, hosted by author and TEDx speaker Kimberly Mosby, will bring together international experts, whistleblowers, insiders, experts, doctors, researchers, and advocates to explore these critical issues in a free, on-demand virtual event launching May 21, 2025.

I've lived through coercive control and know how hard it is to explain what people can't see. I created this summit to give voice to the targeted and those called crazy for speaking the truth.”

Kimberly Mosby, summit host

“This summit was created to give voice to targeted individuals who have experienced forms of psychological control or coercion and to provide expert insight into the tools and systems affecting autonomy in modern life,” said Mosby, author of the Amazon bestselling memoir Unveiling Shadows of Coercive Control.

Running through June 3, 2025, the event will offer over two dozen recorded interviews with speakers across multiple disciplines, including neuroscience, law, alternative medicine, activism, and technology. With daily on-demand access and new expert interviews released each day, the Radical Truths Summit allows attendees to engage at their own pace—no travel, no fees, just fact-driven, unfiltered insight.
