

WARRIOR Legacy Network and Parade Deck Partner To Transform Military to Civilian Transition

From Great Servicemembers to Great Americans – Supporting Veterans After They Hang Up the Uniform.

WASHINGTON DC, DC, UNITED STATES, May 14, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- WARRIOR Legacy Network, a division of WARRIOR Enterprises LLC, is proud to announce a strategic partnership with Parade Deck to help veterans navigate the challenges of transitioning from military to civilian life. This collaboration aims to provide personalized support, mentorship, and community engagement, ensuring that veterans thrive long after their service.

Don't just thank a veteran for their service – serve them by helping them transition from great servicemen and women to great Americans.”

Zachary Green - WARRIOR Enterprises LLC Managing Partner/Founder

WARRIOR Legacy Network's innovative mentor matching platform – often described as “Match.com for mentors and mentees” – uses a powerful pairing algorithm to connect transitioning service members with veterans and supportive civilians based on interests, goals, and location. The platform features integrated scheduling, AI-driven agenda creation, and goal-setting tools, making it a comprehensive solution for more than just career planning. It's designed to address all aspects of life, from finding the right community to building new connections and discovering a renewed sense of purpose.

LTC Oliver Stolley, WARRIOR Legacy Network SkillBridge participant, emphasized the need for this kind of support: “When you transfer from duty station to duty station, the military has a sponsorship program to welcome you, help you find the best schools, churches, and activities. But when you leave active duty, you're on your own. We're changing that.”

WARRIOR Enterprises Founder and Managing Partner Zachary Green added, “Don't just thank a veteran for their service – serve them by helping them transition from great servicemen and women to great Americans.”

Andrew Appleton, CEO of Parade Deck, echoed the importance of this partnership: “Parade Deck is committed to amplifying the voices and stories of our veteran community. Partnering with WARRIOR Legacy Network allows us to connect these stories to real-world support and mentorship, making a lasting impact on veterans and their families.”

Together, WARRIOR Legacy Network and Parade Deck are building a bridge from service to civilian success, empowering veterans to find their purpose, connect with mentors, and thrive in their next mission.
