Disrupt-X and Tecpro Solutions Partner to Deliver Corporate Real Estate Platform Across the UAE and Middle East

With Tecpro Solutions' expertise in IT, security, and building management systems, this partnership enables organizations of all sizes to implement ALEF 360° as a centralized solution for managing real estate assets and facility operations, helping them eliminate inefficiencies and reduce operational costs.

"The growing demand for intelligent real estate solutions requires a platform that unifies asset and facility management while ensuring energy efficiency," said Asim Sajwani, CEO of Disrupt-X. "Through our collaboration with Tecpro Solutions, we are delivering a scalable, enterprise-grade platform that enables property owners and facility managers to optimize their assets with real-time insights and seamless connectivity."

ALEF 360° provides enterprises with a single, integrated solution to manage property operations at scale. The platform streamlines facility maintenance, asset monitoring & tracking, and energy consumption monitoring, helping enterprises align with sustainability goals and operational efficiency benchmarks. By offering real-time data insights and automation capabilities, ALEF 360° empowers organizations to make informed decisions that enhance building performance, reduce costs, and prolong asset lifecycles.

“This partnership with Disrupt-X is a strategic move to expand our offerings in Digital Transformation (DT) portfolio to our customers. By integrating Disrupt-X's innovative ALEF 360° platform under the name Senzfy and with our expertise in IT, security, and building management systems, we are enabling businesses to streamline their operations, enhance sustainability, and accelerate their digital transformation journey.” said Mr. Musthafa, Managing Director of Tecpro Solutions.

The strategic partnership between Disrupt-X and Tecpro Solutions will play a pivotal role in the UAE and Middle East markets by accelerating the adoption of AI & IoT powered property and facility management solutions. By bringing together ALEF 360°'s technology-agnostic architecture with Tecpro Solutions' Senzfy and their established domain knowledge, the partnership offers businesses a robust platform to digitize real estate operations, boost energy efficiency, and unlock data-driven insights. Tecpro Solutions highlights that this partnership not only expands their service offerings in the government & corporate sector but also empowers businesses to optimize performance, reduce costs, and advance their digital capabilities through AI & IoT driven insights and seamless technology integration.
