

CSR Europe Unveils 2025 Sustainable Industry Summit – Driving Innovation Through ESG

Top EU leaders, CSOs, and industry stakeholders to gather in Mechelen for a two-day strategy summit redefining sustainability and business value.

BELGIUM, May 21, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- CSR Europe is proud to host the European Sustainable Industry Summit 2025, taking place on 24–25 June at the Lamot Congress and Heritage Centre in Mechelen, Belgium.

Themed “Turning Sustainability into a Business Advantage”, this landmark gathering will convene over 200 Chief Sustainability Officers (CSOs), senior executives, EU policymakers, and civil society leaders to examine how sustainability strategies can deliver innovation, resilience, and long-term value creation across European markets.

“

This is not just another conference—it is a critical moment to refocus the sustainability agenda on business performance and impact.”

Stefan Crets, Executive Director of CSR Europe.

The Summit comes at a moment of strategic urgency. With regulatory frameworks evolving and global market dynamics shifting, the need for coordinated action across business, government, and society has never been more critical. Attendees will explore how ESG can power competitiveness through stronger policy integration, supply chain transformation, and inclusive economic models.

A cornerstone of the Summit will be the publication of the CSO Network’s Discussion Paper on Better Regulation and Implementation. This new publication builds on CSR Europe’s existing Business Vision and Actionable Recommendations report to support effective, business-informed regulation.

Spanning two days, the Summit will feature keynote interventions, cross-industry roundtables, and CSO Network-only dialogues. Key themes include green transition financing, stakeholder accountability, the future of corporate due diligence, and aligning business performance with EU sustainability goals. CSR Europe encourages sustainability executives, policy advisors, advocacy groups, and institutional partners across Europe to join this milestone event and play a role in shaping the continent's next chapter of sustainable industrial leadership.
