

New Workbook Helps Families Navigate Aging with Clarity, Compassion, and Confidence

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, May 15, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In a world where life can change in an instant, "Strategic Planning for the Golden Years" by William C. Holditch offers a lifeline for individuals and families navigating the challenges of aging, caregiving, and end-of-life planning.

Inspired by personal experiences and his background as a firefighter and EMT, Holditch created this comprehensive workbook after witnessing the confusion and emotional toll that can arise when a loved one's critical information is unorganized or unavailable. When his mother and uncle passed away unexpectedly, Holditch saw firsthand how important it is to have documents, passwords, and plans in place before it's too late.
