Swiss Security Solutions LLC is a member at Forbes Business Council, International Trade Council, Switzerland Global Enterprise (SGE) and Association of Swiss Security Experts and Professionals.

"Securely Swiss® is more than just a name – it's a promise of trust, precision, and protection under highest Swiss standards," said CEO Office of the Security Solutions LLC on today media press conference. "This is our first official and registered trademark in Switzerland, and it signals our long-term commitment to building world-class, legally protected brand in the security and intelligence sector."

One of our most strategic advantages lies in our .swiss domain, which is:

- Restricted and regulated by the Swiss Confederation

- Only available to Swiss public authorities, companies, and institutions with a registered Swiss presence

- Designed to protect consumers and build trust online

- A digital marker for Swiss origin, quality, and security

Compared to .com or .ch domains, the domain .Swiss sends an immediate signal of credibility and authenticity to clients and partners around the globe. The .Swiss domain is managed by the Swiss Federal Government, specifically the Federal Office of Communications (OFCOM). OFCOM checks, publishes, and validates every request based on the principles outlined in the Internet Domain Ordinance (OID). In certain circumstances, a .Swiss domain name may constitute an indication of source within the meaning of Article 47.ff of the Federal Act on the Protection of trademarks and indications of source, as the condition to register a . Swiss domain is to have a physical office in Switzerland. The .Swiss domain name is used to clearly associate a website with Switzerland, and its use is governed by Swiss law, particularly the OID. The Swiss Confederation aims to safeguard the interests of Switzerland and prevent misuse of the geographical term "Switzerland" by applying for the .Swiss domain. The goal is to support Swiss businesses, culture, and institutions, strengthen the value of Swiss products, and provide a platform specifically referencing Switzerland.

The Board of directors and managers of the Swiss Security Solutions has decided to invite investors to invest in this registered Swiss trademark as security and investigations as standard services and modern digital intelligence with use of special developed AI tools have significant and secured future.
