“Jeff Clark's deep knowledge and clear, no-nonsense approach make him an ideal speaker for our boot camp,” said Cali Van Zant, founder of The Equity Explorers and host of The Exploring Mining Podcast. “His insights will empower investors to seize opportunities in today's commodity boom.”

Unlike typical investment events, The Equity Explorers' boot camp focuses on education, not stock pitches. It features top investors like Clark, Peter Krauth, Chris Temple, Philippe Gijssels, and Jean-Pierre Colin, offering macro-economic perspectives and insights into tech sectors like AI and Bitcoin, which rely on critical minerals. The event aligns with surging commodity demand, as noted in recent CNBC and Barron's reports on gold's safe-haven appeal and critical minerals' role in technology.
