A Combination of Expertise and Innovation

Berexia and IBA Group bring proven expertise in delivering high-end fintech solutions, from mobile payments and digital banking to co-creating tailored fintech solutions. This partnership will enable an exchange of best practices, knowledge, and technical skills between their respective teams, fostering a culture of continuous improvement.

Vadzim Smatrayeu, VP FinTech Services at IBA Group, said, “We believe that collaboration is the key to solving mobile payment challenges. Collaboration with Berexia allows us to combine our technology expertise with their regional insights and advanced ecosystem to build impactful solutions that respond to real-world needs. Our extensive experience in the fintech sector will be an essential asset in this partnership.”

“Working together, we aim to accelerate financial inclusion and support the digital economy in Africa and globally,” added Sami METWALI, Head of Products & Solutions at Berexia. “Berexia and IBA Group are fully aligned and committed to investing in a strategic and ambitious fintech initiative in Morocco. We are also exploring further collaboration on additional use cases. Our partnership will not only benefit our clients and partners but will also help set new benchmarks for the fintech industry.”

Commitment to High-Potential Use Cases

The partnership will initially focus on high-potential use cases, such as SoftPOS solutions for SMEs, micro businesses, and individuals. The solutions will contribute to economic growth and improve financial accessibility in the African region.
