

Schechter, Shaffer & Harris, LLP Comments on Train-Semi Crash in North Harris County, Urges Rail and Road Safety

HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, May 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In light of the recent train collision involving an empty semi-tanker truck in north Harris County, Schechter, Shaffer & Harris, LLP, a Houston-based personal injury law firm, is raising awareness about the importance of safe roadway and rail infrastructure and how victims of similar incidents can protect their rights.

The collision occurred around 3 a.m. on Hildebrandt Road, where a semi-truck became stuck on the railroad tracks for approximately 15 minutes before being struck by a freight train stretching over 8,000 feet and carrying 138 cars. While no injuries were reported, the situation disrupted traffic near Northampton Elementary, Hildebrandt Intermediate School, and Klein Oak High School and could have easily resulted in serious harm.

According to the trucking company, new asphalt may have been laid at an improper incline, potentially preventing the truck from clearing the tracks in time.

“This incident is a reminder of how quickly things can go wrong when infrastructure is flawed or safety standards aren’t followed. Although we are not involved in this case, our firm has worked with many families who’ve suffered injuries or worse because of unsafe road conditions or commercial vehicle incidents. These are avoidable tragedies, and we’re committed to holding responsible parties accountable when they happen.” said Jonathan S. Harris, Partner at Schechter, Shaffer & Harris, LLP.
