

Great Place to Work® names Openmind Networks one of Ireland's Best Workplaces in Tech™ 2025

The Best Workplaces in Tech™ list celebrates the innovative, flexible and forward-thinking cultures developed by organisations across Ireland's tech sector.

DUBLIN, IRELAND, May 22, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Great Place to Work® Ireland has recognised Openmind Networks as one of Ireland's Best Workplaces in Tech 2025.

Being recognised as a Best Workplace in Tech means a great deal to us as we pursue the highest standards in telecoms software. Our team shows the world what Irish companies can achieve.”

Alex Duncan, CEO at Openmind Networks

Now in its fifth year, the Best Workplaces in Tech™ list celebrates the innovative, flexible and forward-thinking cultures developed by organisations across Ireland's dynamic technology sector. All honourees must first earn Great Place to Work-Certified™ status, based on the global Best Workplaces™ methodology.

Openmind Networks, headquartered in Dublin with customers in more than 50 countries, employs just under 100 people—most in highly technical roles dedicated to advancing mobile messaging since the early 2000s.

“Being recognised as a Best Workplace in Tech means a great deal to us as we pursue the highest standards in telecoms software,” said Alex Duncan, CEO, Openmind Networks. “Our team shows the world what Ireland can achieve, helping some of the globe's largest brands deliver over 2.7 billion text messages every day.”

“In the highly competitive tech sector, a strong workplace culture is a true competitive advantage,” added Cathal Divilly, CEO, Great Place to Work Ireland. “The organisations on this list are strengthening their employer brand, attracting top talent and positioning themselves for long-term success. Congratulations to everyone recognised this year for setting a standard others aspire to follow.”
