Carrick Carpenter joins as Chief Technology and AI Officer, while Ina Mainetti assumes the role of SVP Global Services and Delivery. These strategic appointments accelerate Aditi's established leadership in delivering comprehensive digital engineering services enhanced by AI transformation capabilities.

These appointments position us to deeply integrate AI across our entire service portfolio as we scale intelligent solutions for global enterprises.”

Raja Narayana

New Executive Appointments:

Carrick Carpenter, Chief Technology and AI Officer
Carpenter brings extensive expertise in artificial intelligence and data engineering following a transformative six-year tenure at Slalom, where he led AI/ML and Data Engineering initiatives across the Americas. At Slalom, he successfully scaled engineering capabilities and launched innovative solutions including AI-enabled delivery frameworks and intelligent products. Based in Charlotte, Carpenter joins Aditi to further advance the company's AI Transformation practice, focused on delivering enterprise value through intelligent solutions that scale across Aditi's comprehensive digital engineering services suite.

Ina Mainetti, SVP Global Services and Delivery

Mainetti joins Aditi with nearly 14 years of experience at Globant, where she played an instrumental role in the company's exponential growth. As a technology leader, she built and expanded portfolios across multiple industries while developing global systems that successfully integrated U.S., Latin American, and offshore operations. Her contributions at Globant included developing new service offerings, launching proprietary products, and maturing delivery frameworks. Mainetti will leverage this expertise to further scale Aditi's comprehensive digital engineering services platform serving enterprise clients worldwide.

"These strategic appointments reinforce our established leadership in digital engineering services," said Raja Narayana, CEO of Aditi Consulting. "Having built trusted relationships with over 70 Fortune 500 clients, we're now positioned to accelerate our AI transformation initiatives across the enterprise. Carrick and Ina bring the expertise needed to deeply integrate AI across our entire service portfolio while maintaining our focus on the human side of technology. Their leadership will be instrumental as we scale intelligent solutions that transform not just what we deliver to clients, but how we deliver value every day. "
