

Honor and Remember: Times of My Life Launches Free Memorial Day Tribute Tool to Preserve the Legacy of Fallen Heroes

Create a lasting written tribute to a fallen loved one who made the ultimate sacrifice in service to their country.

LAKEWOOD RANCH, FL, UNITED STATES, May 26, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Just in time for Memorial Day, Times of My Life is proud to announce the launch of its Memorial Day Tribute tool—a heartfelt and meaningful way for loved ones of fallen service members to honor those who made the ultimate sacrifice in service to their country.

Using the Times of My Life Virtual Biographer, families and friends can now create a lasting written tribute to a father, mother, sibling, spouse, or friend who gave their life in military service. Through a guided virtual interview, the Virtual Biographer helps the storyteller reflect on the life, character, and legacy of their fallen hero. The result is a beautifully written narrative that serves as a powerful keepsake for future generations—and a moving reminder to all of the courage and selflessness of those who served.

This tribute is more than a remembrance—it’s a promise that a fallen hero’s story will never be forgotten.”

*Michael O'Donnell, Founder,
The Leaves Legacy Project*

There is no cost to use the Memorial Day Tribute tool.

Stories can be written, edited, and downloaded for free as a professionally formatted document—perfect for sharing with loved ones, displaying at memorials, or preserving as part of a family legacy.

“This tribute is more than a remembrance—it’s a promise that their story will never be forgotten,” said Mike O'Donnell, founder of the Leaves Legacy Project and creator of Times of My Life. “We believe every fallen service member deserves to have their legacy honored in words. And every family should have the opportunity to tell that story.”

Whether a child remembering a parent or sibling, a spouse cherishing their partner, or a friend honoring a comrade-in-arms, the Memorial Day Tribute is a meaningful way to share memories—and inspire others with their courage.
