LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, June 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nearly two years after

Ann Licater is an exquisite master of the flute who transports the listener into an enchanted realm between heaven and earth in 'Sky Dreaming.'"

Scarlet Rivera, GRAMMY®-nominated artist

the release of Ann Licater's award-winning album "Between the Stars" ("Music Meditation Gold Winner" COVR Visionary Awards and "Best New Age Flute Recording" World Flute Society Music Awards) she continues her focus on solo-inspired compositions that evoke stillness and peace, this time extending her inspiration to the quiet sanctity of the forest. "Echoes from the Forest" is the eighth album on the artist's independent record label Cul de Sac Mystic Productions.

"I love taking walks in the rich, lush redwood forests of California and through the beautiful, verdant woods in Minnesota where I grew up. This album is a collection of those memories and feelings of oneness with the creative lifeforce of a forest—a flute journey among the trees," says Licater.

"Echoes from the Forest" offers 14 meditative tracks recorded with silver, clay and wood flutes also reflecting Licater's distinct artistry performing on flutes created by select artisans including master craftsman Guillermo Martinez of Quetzacoatl Flutes and Drums who says, "My intention with every instrument I make is for it to open the heart of its user, to help them transform on a very deep level."

"The voices of expression in my recordings include the flute maker's artistry, the organic materials of each flute, and inspirations from mentors. These facets echo through my music as nuances that listeners can connect with," says Licater.

Returning to co-produce with Licater is Ivar Lunde, Jr. as recording, mixing and mastering engineer. He also plays synth on "Ancient Vistas" and "Journey Beyond." Veteran musician, producer and world flutist Peter Phippen also returns, this time as guest artist playing bass and congas on select tracks. "Lunde Jr. and Phippen understand recording and supporting my instruments," says Licater.

The project was recorded at Lunde, Jr's Skyline Studios in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, USA.

Radio focus tracks:

"Redwood Canyon," a reverberant flute solo and "Cedar Sanctuary," featuring a Mayan-style harmony drone are recorded with native instruments by Martinez. "Bird and Breeze," played on an ocarina—a type of vessel flute—with Moog synthesizer and bass accompaniment, "is bright and hopeful," comments Licater. "Sky Dreaming" is a soothing, flute melody with bass, synth and vocal layers.

GRAMMY®-nominated artist Scarlet Rivera, who has recorded and performed with Licater says, "Ann Licater is an exquisite master of the flute who transports the listener into an enchanted realm between heaven and earth in 'Sky Dreaming.'"

This album is an artful recording for mindfulness practices, meditation, well-being, yoga, spa, healing arts, creativity, study, sleep, and stress reduction.
