Your Future. Our Promise.®

Accreditation is a rigorous and collaborative process, and this successful renewal speaks volumes about the strength of our academic model and the dedication of the entire SJSM community,”

Mr. Kaushik Guha

The ACCM conducted a comprehensive evaluation of the school's academic programs, administrative operations, clinical partnerships, and student support systems. The resulting three-year accreditation renewal reflects SJSM's continued compliance with internationally recognized standards for medical education quality and institutional integrity.

“Accreditation is a rigorous and collaborative process, and this successful renewal speaks volumes about the strength of our academic model and the dedication of the entire SJSM community,” said Mr. Kaushik Guha, the Executive Vice President of Saint James School of Medicine. “We are grateful to our faculty, staff, students, and clinical partners who all played a vital role in this achievement.”

Saint James School of Medicine is located in St. Vincent and the Grenadines, offering a robust MD program designed to prepare students for licensure and practice in the United States and other global healthcare systems. The school's continued accreditation by ACCM ensures that its graduates remain eligible for important milestones such as ECFMG certification and U.S. residency placement.
