survivors, and B. Angels Production House, a media company dedicated to telling stories that inspire change and raise awareness about human exploitation. With a background in nursing and a Master's degree in Social Work, Yolande has equipped herself with the tools to serve victims both physically and emotionally. Her life's work is rooted in one mission: to fight human trafficking until every voice is heard and every life is free. Through storytelling, advocacy, and hands-on support, she is building a movement — one project, one rescue, one soul at a time.

Billie King (Writer, Director, and Playwright) is a visionary storyteller, seamlessly blending film and theater to tell stories that are as socially urgent as they are emotionally compelling. Based in Los Angeles, Billie is the writer and director of the upcoming film Rogue and curator of the anthology Echoes of Justice, a six-part cinematic journey spotlighting marginalized voices and themes of redemption and revenge. She is the creative force behind acclaimed stage productions including Brown Boy, Happy Home, and Billie: The Little General, known for weaving historical, cultural, and emotional truths into unforgettable theatrical experiences. A former platinum-selling music artist and bestselling author, Billie now leads Program Rewrite, a nonprofit using art to empower communities, and R.A.W Theater Group, a platform for trauma-informed storytelling. Through every project, Billie challenges the status quo with stories that inspire, provoke, and heal.
