

Rankviz Launches Digital PR Service for Media Outreach and Reputation Management

Rankviz's new Digital PR services help businesses increase visibility, build online reputation, and drive growth in today's digital-first world.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, May 28, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Rankviz, a UK-based digital marketing agency, announced the official launch of its Digital PR service today. This new offering expands the agency's portfolio beyond its existing marketing services, aiming to help businesses strengthen their online media presence and manage reputations across digital channels. The Digital PR service is introduced as a response to shifting market dynamics and the growing need for integrated communication strategies in an increasingly digital media landscape.

Focus Areas of the Digital PR Service

The Digital PR service encompasses multiple facets of modern public relations. Key focus areas include:

Media Outreach: Proactively engaging with journalists and media outlets to secure press coverage and features.

Online Reputation Management:

Monitoring and influencing online mentions and reviews to maintain a positive brand image.

Digital PR, focusing on brand visibility and online engagement.

Crisis Communication: Developing strategies and messaging to address and mitigate public relations crises in real time.

Thought Leadership Content: Creating and distributing insightful content that positions clients as experts in their industry.

Expert Positioning: Elevating the profiles of company spokespeople and executives as trusted authorities in their field.

Meeting Evolving Digital Media Needs

Rankviz developed the Digital PR service to meet evolving business needs in a digital media environment.

Companies today often require coordinated public relations and marketing efforts to maintain a consistent brand voice online. By adding Digital PR to its offerings, Rankviz aims to provide an integrated approach that aligns PR campaigns with SEO, content marketing, and social media initiatives. "In today's fast-paced digital media environment, businesses face rapidly evolving challenges in managing their public image," said Zeeshan Yaseen, CEO of Rankviz. "We developed our Digital PR service to help organizations address these needs — from securing media coverage to handling online reputation and crisis communications — within a unified, strategic framework." The launch of the Digital PR service marks a strategic expansion for Rankviz.

It complements the agency's existing expertise in search engine optimization (SEO), content marketing, and social media management, enabling the firm to offer a more comprehensive suite of services. This development comes at a time when brands increasingly seek to bolster their online presence and authority through a combination of earned media coverage and thought leadership.
