

California Governor Candidate Sharifah Hardie Highlights $75M SWorx Expansion to Put Californians Back to Work

Sharifah Hardie showcases SWorx Bottling's $75M expansion as a real solution to create jobs and rebuild California's economy from the ground up.

COLTON, CA, UNITED STATES, May 30, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sharifah Hardie, Republican candidate for California Governor in 2026, is shining a spotlight on a $75 million investment initiative by SWorx Bottling Company, calling it a powerful example of how California can rebuild its economy from the ground up.

During a recent tour of the SWorx facility in Colton, California, Hardie praised the company's commitment to job creation, manufacturing expansion, and local empowerment. She described SWorx as a "real-world model" of her California Forward Plan, which prioritizes infrastructure, small business growth, and putting Californians back to work.

"California's economy has been hit hard, but we're done waiting," said Hardie. "We're building a future right here, right now. SWorx Bottling Company proves that we can deliver jobs, innovation, and hope for working families across the state."

SWorx Bottling Launches $75 Million Private Offering

SWorx Bottling Company, now a wholly owned subsidiary of Urban Television Network Corp. (OTC: URBT), recently launched a $75 million private offering to scale operations, increase production capacity, and create new employment opportunities across California.

The company's 161,000-square-foot facility offers high-efficiency beverage production, packaging, and bottling services for both established and emerging brands. With global supply chain issues and rising tariffs, SWorx's commitment to local manufacturing and "Made in America" solutions positions it as a critical piece of California's economic recovery.

"The acquisition of SWorx by URBT marks a new chapter," said Dan Parr, CEO of SWorx Bottling Company.

"We now have the leadership, vision, and resources to scale rapidly. This expansion offers a unique opportunity for qualified investors to be part of something exceptional."

SWorx Bottling Company is proof that we can bring jobs back to California. This is how we rebuild our economy, with real action, real opportunity, and real leadership.”
