

HK Refurbished Stock Introduces Low-Minimum 'Mini Wholesale' Program for Renewed iPhones

New initiative lowers wholesale entry threshold to just 5 units, aiming to expand global access to refurbished iPhone resale market

UNITED KINGDOM, June 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- HK Refurbished Stock has introduced a new “Mini Wholesale” program designed to support independent entrepreneurs and small businesses entering the iPhones wholesale market. The initiative allows buyers to place wholesale orders starting from just five devices—a significant reduction from traditional industry minimums.

The company says the program was developed in response to growing interest from small-scale resellers, especially in high-tariff regions where refurbished smartphone prices often carry a significant premium. By offering access to A+++ grade refurbished iPhones in small quantities, HK Refurbished Stock aims to make iPhones wholesale pricing more accessible to a wider range of global entrepreneurs.

By reducing minimum orders to just 5 pieces while maintaining genuine wholesale pricing, we're creating thousands of new business opportunities globally.”

“We recognized a demand from individuals and small businesses who wanted to start reselling but were previously locked out due to high minimum order requirements,” said Y. Gomez, spokesperson for HK Refurbished Stock. “The Mini Wholesale program opens the door for them to test their local markets and grow sustainably.”

Each device in the program undergoes a 70-point inspection process and comes with a 12-month warranty. The company provides international shipping through FedEx at a flat global rate, and supports multiple payment options, including major cryptocurrencies.

Industry analysts note that the shift comes at a time when affordability and accessibility are key challenges in the global smartphone market.

"Making wholesale access available to smaller buyers could shift distribution dynamics in the refurbished electronics space," said Maria Rodriguez, a technology market analyst at Global Tech Partners.

Early adopters of the program, particularly in Latin America and parts of Europe, have reported successful results in local resale. Carlos Mendez, a reseller based in Colombia, shared that he began with five iPhone 13 Pro units and gradually scaled operations after receiving strong local interest.

HK Refurbished Stock is headquartered in Hong Kong and specializes in supplying premium renewed Apple devices to international resellers. The company focuses on providing consistent product quality, flexible order volumes, and global delivery solutions.
