Tournament Format: A Game of Skill and Survival

Unlike traditional competitions, the Survivor Showdown unfolds in structured phases designed to test more than just trading performance:

□ Trading Days:

Participants must deliver consistent results under real-time market conditions. Those with the weakest performance face elimination.

□ Gaming Days:

Unique to the Showdown: Traders face predictive market challenges and community games hosted on Discord — blending intuition, knowledge, and strategy.

□ Eliminations:

Every day, underperformers are removed from the competition. As the field narrows, the pressure intensifies — leading to a final showdown among the best.

An Opportunity for Every Trader

Whether you're new to the world of trading or an experienced competitor, the Survivor Showdown is designed to inspire growth, sharpen skills, and open doors — all in a fun, pressure-filled environment that mimics the realities of real-world trading without the risk of loss.

"We created the Survivor Showdown to provide something new: a zero-risk environment that still challenges traders like a real market would," said the TradersYard team. "This tournament is about learning, adapting, and surviving under pressure — and thanks to GBE Brokers, our Gold Sponsor, we can offer even more value, exposure, and opportunity for participants worldwide."
