This expansion comes at a time when healthcare accessibility remains a pressing concern nationwide. Physician Collaborators is dedicated to improving access to healthcare through partnerships between advanced practice providers and board-certified doctors.

"Our expansion into 41 states represents a significant milestone in our mission to help advanced practitioners succeed in their independent medical practices," said Michael Harris, spokesman for Physician Collaborators. Physician Collaborators offers a streamlined process to connect you with a suitable collaborator, often within a week. We pride ourselves on providing:

- Expert Physicians: Our collaborating physicians each have over a decade of experience supervising nurse practitioners and physician assistants and are actively practicing in their respective fields.
- Tailored Collaboration: We customize the level of collaboration to your individual needs, offering everything from hands-on guidance to less-involved administrative oversight. You also have the option to switch physicians if your needs change.
- Competitive Rates: Our pricing model is designed to be affordable, with typical monthly costs ranging from $500-$1200 USD, ensuring you receive excellent value.
- Support for Diverse Practice Types: Whether your focus is on primary care, psychiatry, urgent care, med spa practices, or expanding telehealth capabilities, our network has physicians ready to support your unique requirements.

The company's board-certified physicians actively practice in Internal Medicine, Family Medicine, Emergency Medicine, and Psychiatry, with each doctor bringing over a decade of experience supervising nurse practitioners and physician assistants. These experts are eager to support independent nurse practitioners and physician assistants through various practice types, including general medicine, specialties, telemedicine, and urgent care.

A key differentiator for the company is its flexible approach to collaboration. The organization tailors the level of collaboration to individual practitioner needs, from very hands-on guidance to less-involved administrative oversight, and matches practitioners with the best collaborating physician for their practice while leaving the option to switch physicians at any time.

The company currently offers free consultations to interested practitioners, facilitating transparent and accessible partnership opportunities for NPs and PAs looking to establish or expand their independent practices.
