Commenting on the partnership, Mario Nawfal, CEO of IBC Group, said “IBC has always backed projects that are building real, long-term value. Moonrig is addressing one of Web3’s most urgent problems — the lack of transparent, credible, and accessible project research. We’re excited to back a platform that is not only solving that challenge but also scaling it globally.”

Partnering with IBC Group gives us the strategic boost we need to expand our analyst network, deepen our product capabilities, and unlock new layers of insight across the Web3 ecosystem.”
