Nothing delights us more than performing for a warm and welcoming audience—it truly elevates the entire experience for our musicians.”

Alan Segal, Founder & Executive Director, The Jazz Sanctuary

Philadelphia’s most distinctive performing arts nonprofit, brings their scintillating sounds to five free, live jazz concerts across the Greater Philadelphia region.

The Jazz Sanctuary Quintet will bring their popular “Jazz & Joe” concerts — featuring live music, coffee, soft drinks, dessert treats, and a “BYOB” atmosphere — to audiences in Philadelphia and its suburbs this June.

and Executive Director of The Jazz Sanctuary. “We’re grateful for the support of every community we visit, and we hope you’ll continue to join us whenever you can.

“As we continue to share the joy of live jazz this year, I’m already looking ahead to 2026—our 15th anniversary and my 85th birthday,” Segal continued. “You have every reason to expect surprises, celebrations, and music to soothe the soul. I hope you’ll be part of it.

“We’re still filling out our schedule for the rest of this year, and I’d be grateful for any suggestions from our wonderful audience members,” added Segal. “Whether it’s helping us find new venues or supporting us as a sponsor or individual donor, your involvement makes all the difference. Together, we can keep this music alive and thriving in communities across the region.”

Upcoming Concerts:

- Sunday, June 8 at 9:30 a.m. – Church of the Messiah (1001 Dekalb Pike Lower Gwynedd, PA 19002) – Live music featuring artists from The Jazz Sanctuary during Sunday services, with
