National Iced Tea Day is our favorite day of the year, so we want to share our love of iced tea with as many Californians as possible.”

Gloria Reynolds, VP of Marketing for Tejava

According to the Tea Association of the USA, Americans drink more than 3.8 billion gallons of tea annually – and more than 80% of that is iced. A tea vendor at the 1904 World’s Fair in St. Louis, is credited with its rise in popularity -- he poured his hot tea over ice when struggling to attract crowds during a summer heatwave, sparking a sensation that helped cement iced tea’s place in American culture.

“National Iced Tea Day is our favorite day of the year, so we want to share our love of iced tea with as many Californians as possible, and especially give those who haven't had a chance to try our tea an easy opportunity through DashMart to do so, by enjoying a bottle on us," said Gloria Reynolds, VP of Marketing for Tejava. "We're raising a bottle – or at least 20,000 to be more exact – to do a collective cheer to iced tea across the state of California and perhaps create some new fans while we're at it," she added.
