Key Highlights at InfoComm 2025

Expanded Channel Partner Program

Cyviz will unveil its enhanced partner program, purpose-built for AV integrators and consultants. This initiative is designed to help partners scale their businesses through a recurring revenue model, backed by Cyviz' robust technology stack and dedicated channel support. The program reflects Cyviz' commitment to a channel-first strategy, offering partners the tools, training, and resources needed to succeed in today's evolving AV landscape.

Support for Microsoft Teams Rooms Certified Devices

Cyviz solutions are fully compatible with all Microsoft Teams Rooms certified device partners, including HP Poly, Logitech, Lenovo, and Shure.

Next-Generation Collaboration Solutions

Attendees will experience Cyviz' latest innovations for high-performance collaboration spaces, including corporate environments, innovation centers, and mission-critical command and control rooms.

Cyziv Core Technology Demonstrations

Live demos will feature Cyviz' configurable AV room control software, remote AV hardware management via a new SaaS cloud platform, Monitoring & Management SaaS for IoT devices, dynamic multi-windowing video processing, and seamless integration with Microsoft Teams Rooms.

"We're excited to demonstrate how our channel-first approach enables AV integrators and consultants to scale recurring revenue streams with confidence," said Chris Lewis, Cyviz EVP North America.

"Our investment in Cyviz Core Technology and partner enablement reflects our commitment to delivering differentiated solutions for high-impact collaboration."

A Growing Ecosystem of Strategic Partnerships

Cyziv continues strengthening its presence in the U.S. and globally through a growing ecosystem of strategic partnerships with leading technology providers, including Microsoft, Accenture, and IBM.

Most recently, Cyviz joined forces with IBM and Cloud Range to enhance cybersecurity across U.S. higher education institutions as part of the IBM Cyber Campus initiative.

Through this collaboration, Cyviz technology powers immersive, real-world cyberattack simulations, helping close the cybersecurity skills gap by preparing students for the demands of modern cybersecurity roles.

"By enabling immersive, advanced learning environments, we're helping institutions and organizations prepare the next generation of cybersecurity professionals", said Chris Lewis.

This growing ecosystem of strategic partnerships reinforces Cyviz' ability to support enterprise clients, public institutions, and technology partners alike, scaling impact through a focused and partner-first approach.
