

Grace3 Technologies, LLC and Policereports.AI Announce Strategic Reseller Partnership to Enhance Public Safety Reporting

PHILADELPHIA, PA, UNITED STATES, June 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Grace3 Technologies, LLC, a nationally certified Minority Business Enterprise and leading provider of mission-critical communications and aerial intelligence solutions, is thrilled to announce a strategic reseller partnership with Policereports.AI, an innovative AI-powered document completion platform for public safety agencies. This collaboration aims to revolutionize law enforcement reporting by integrating Policereports.AI's cutting-edge technology with Grace3's robust connectivity and situational awareness solutions.

Policereports.AI leverages advanced AI to streamline report writing, reducing paperwork time by up to 75% and cutting costs by as much as 80% in some cases, while improving report quality with fewer errors. Currently active in 21 agencies across nine states, the platform transforms traditional workflows into efficient, automated processes, enabling officers to focus on community safety. Grace3 Technologies complements this innovation with its expertise in delivering resilient, high-bandwidth connectivity and aerial intelligence solutions, including Skydio's unmanned aerial systems (UAS) for rapid situational awareness and crime scene documentation.

"This partnership aligns perfectly with our mission to empower public safety agencies with intelligent, reliable solutions that enhance operational efficiency and community safety," said John Henry, Chairman and CEO at Grace3 Technologies. "By combining Policereports.AI's transformative reporting capabilities with our mission-critical communication networks and aerial intelligence tools, we are equipping law enforcement with a comprehensive suite of technologies to meet modern challenges."
