

Blue Goat Cyber Sponsors LSI Asia 2025; CTO Trevor Slattery to Lead High-Impact MedTech Cybersecurity Panel

Blue Goat Cyber sponsors LSI Asia 2025 and leads a MedTech cybersecurity panel on avoiding regulatory and market pitfalls in APAC.

SCOTTSDALE, AZ, UNITED STATES, June 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Blue Goat Cyber, a trusted authority in medical device cybersecurity and regulatory strategy, announces its sponsorship of LSI Asia 2025, the region's premier summit for MedTech innovation and investment, taking place June 10–13 at The Ritz-Carlton, Millenia Singapore.

As part of the agenda, Trevor Slattery, Chief Technology Officer at Blue Goat Cyber, will moderate a featured panel discussion titled "Invisible Risk: Cybersecurity Mistakes That Stall Market Momentum." The session will explore critical missteps MedTech companies make when approaching cybersecurity—missteps that often delay product approvals, erode investor confidence, and create postmarket vulnerabilities.

"Cybersecurity can't be an afterthought for MedTech. It's a foundational requirement for regulatory success and long-term market credibility," said Trevor Slattery. "This panel will provide practical direction for device innovators who want to scale securely and compliantly."

Key takeaways from the panel:

- Avoid the top cybersecurity errors that delay MedTech launches
- Understand regional and FDA cybersecurity requirements
- Learn how to embed security into product design from Day One
