

UAE Suppliers Can Now List and Sell Building Materials Online with MawadOnline.com

MawadOnline.com enables UAE construction suppliers to launch eShop, manage catalogs, set pricing, and fulfill orders with full control, no custom tech needed.

ABU DHABI, ABU DHABI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, June 4, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As UAE contractors and developers increasingly turn to digital platforms to source materials, tools, and services, MawadOnline is expanding access to its construction-focused marketplace, designed to help suppliers across the Emirates sell online without technical complexity or credit exposure. Through dedicated eShops, vendors can now reach verified buyers, manage product listings, control pricing, and fulfill orders with full visibility and operational control.

Following its initial platform rollout in late 2024, MawadOnline worked closely with early vendor partners to refine key elements of the Vendor Portal, enhancing usability, tightening workflows, and aligning functionality with the day-to-day realities of construction suppliers in the UAE. This expanded phase now invites a broader vendor base to join a digital marketplace that's been tested, improved, and tailored for scale.

UAE buyers spend 7 hours a day on their phones. If your business isn't online, you're out of sight, and out of the conversation.”

From industrial tools and construction machinery to waterproofing, HVAC systems, tiles, and MEP services, suppliers can establish a powerful digital presence and tap into growing demand, without building their own e-commerce systems or navigating fragmented sales channels.

UAE's Digital Shift: A Missed Opportunity for Suppliers.

The UAE's construction sector is undergoing a digital transition. A growing number of professionals now search for building products online, compare material specs digitally, and request quotes directly from mobile or tablet.

This shift isn't just about convenience, it's about visibility. "Out of sight, out of sales" is becoming the new rule of business, especially when mobile browsing dominates over seven hours of a contractor's day. If your brand isn't in those screens, it's not in the running.

Suppliers that don't list on an online marketplace to sell building products online in UAE risk losing contracts to competitors who are digitally accessible. MawadOnline addresses this gap by offering a platform that's specifically engineered for the building industry.

What Suppliers Can Do on MawadOnline

- +Sell construction supplies in UAE with nationwide exposure
- +List construction products for sale with dynamic pricing and bulk discounts
- +Reach contractors, resellers, and service providers across all Emirates
- +Offer secure payments and avoid credit risk through instant buyer settlements
- +Use Aramex, TFM, or in-house logistics to fulfill orders
- +Access AI-powered tools for catalog upload, SEO tagging, and sales analytics

This initiative supports suppliers of building materials, industrial equipment, and technical services, including those offering wholesale construction materials online.

Who Should Join

The program is open to:

- +Construction material suppliers (steel, cement, tiles, gypsum, insulation, etc.)
