This year's all Canadian lineup features crowd favorites like Master D and Landy Garcia, bringing an electrifying fusion of Bangla and Reggaeton, and JUNO nominated Yanchan Produced, blending Tamil music with hip hop and global influences. The festival will also showcase over 60 performers and dancers, including Mastaaney, Shallum Xavier, Achante Music, Spitty, Kalakaar Collective, Musebox, and Queens of Bollywood. Together, they represent six languages and a powerful mix of musical styles from timeless Bollywood hits to indie rock, creating a vibrant “Seeing the independent South Asian music community grow and thrive over the past few years, leading to our second all-Canadian showcase, is a proud moment for us and the culture,” said Sathish Bala, Founder and CEO of DESIFEST. “We need more investment and community support to continue this growth and open new doors for the next generation.”

New in 2025:

“The Port” Playlist from Amazon Music
In a major collaboration, Amazon Music joins DESIFEST to celebrate the launch of the new playlist “The Port,” a new curated playlist that draws influences from popular Indian music—not to mention hip-hop, pop, and R&B—and reflects the evolution of Canadian South Asian music. This week, the playlist is curated with Yanchan Produced and features genre-defying artists like AP Dhillon, Shubh, and Karan Aujla. “The Port” is more than music — it’s a movement.
