

Stoneroos brings NPO Start to Titan OS

This collaboration expands the lineup of Dutch apps available on Titan OS

BARCELONA, BARCELONA, SPAIN, June 10, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Stoneroos, part of NEP The Netherlands, now also develops apps for the Titan OS ecosystem. The launch of the NPO Start app from the Dutch Public Broadcaster is a first result of the collaboration between Stoneroos and Titan OS, the European company that has developed an independent operating system for connected TV.

Stoneroos - Titan OS partnership announcement.

Titan OS currently powers millions of Philips Smart TVs across Europe, reaching more than 5 million active users. It will soon be available for JVC and other brands.

"We are excited about Stoneroos focusing on Titan OS. They have an extensive track record in creating high-quality apps for TV and delivering excellent video user experiences" said Rick Fens, SVP Business Development at Titan OS.

Robbert van Elswijk, Director of Stoneroos, added, "Stoneroos helps its customers maximize their reach. Titan OS is one of the most promising TV operating systems in Europe. With their truly independent approach and growing market share, it's an ideal platform for customers to help maximize their reach."
