LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, June 10, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The aerosol

market has seen a powerful surge in recent years. It is expected to grow from $81.41 billion in 2024 to $87.14 billion in 2025, signifying a compound annual growth rate CAGR of 7.0%. This trajectory of historical growth can largely be credited to the increasing consciousness regarding hygiene, a rising demand for pharmaceutical products, a widening application in the food and beverage sector, an expansion of retail channels, and a surge in industrial applications.

Who's Driving the Steady Growth in the Aerosol Market?

The momentum behind the growth of the aerosol market can be linked to the rising demand for personal care products - an array of items used to support hygiene, improve appearance, and facilitate personal grooming routines. The increasing usage of personal care products correlates with the growing consumer awareness about health and hygiene, which in turn is generating demand for products that enable cleanliness and self-care. Aerosols enhance the utility of personal care products by allowing precise, sanitary, and convenient delivery of formulations like deodorants, hair sprays, and shaving foams. To put things into perspective, in 2023, according to Cosmetics Europe, every day, 500 million consumers in Europe used personal care products to bolster their well-being and health. Additionally, the personal care industry contributes approximately USD 31.23 billion €29 billion annually to the European economy, further propelling the growth of the aerosol market.
