Springdale, Arkansas – The Law Office of Jason M. This distinction is reserved for attorneys with the highest legal knowledge, communication skills, and integrity, as recognized by fellow attorneys and judges.

“This recognition means a great deal because it comes directly from legal professionals who have seen our work firsthand,” said Jason M. What the AV Preeminent Rating Means

For more than 130 years, Martindale-Hubbell has evaluated attorneys through a rigorous peer review system that assesses professional ability and ethical conduct. The AV Preeminent® rating represents the highest standard in these evaluations, awarded only to attorneys who meet strict criteria.

The rating process includes a secure peer review survey completed by attorneys and judges familiar with a lawyer’s work. Participants assess legal ability, professional conduct, and ethical standards. Attorneys who receive an AV Preeminent rating are regarded as leaders in their fields and are recognized for exceptional legal skill, advocacy, and integrity.

Historically, Martindale-Hubbell used an A-B-C rating scale to evaluate legal professionals, with “A” representing very high legal ability and “V” signifying very high ethical standards. Over time, this system evolved into the AV Preeminent rating, which remains the most respected designation in the legal industry.
