

9th Annual California's Day of Dance Returns June 12-14 as Nation's Largest Community Dance Festival

Founded by Tamaira “Miss Tee” Sandifer, Studio T’s flagship event highlights a $30M push for arts equity and creative economy growth.

SACRAMENTO , CA, UNITED STATES, June 12, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- California's Day of Dance, the nation's largest community-driven dance festival, returns to Sacramento on June 12-14, 2025, igniting a powerful three-day celebration of culture, creativity, and social impact. Drawing thousands of participants statewide, this landmark event showcases the transformative power of dance to unite diverse communities and drive arts equity. What began as a grassroots movement a decade ago has now grown into a nationally recognized platform powered by Studio T Arts & Entertainment, under the visionary leadership of arts advocate and award-winning founder Tamaira "Miss Tee" Sandifer.

With support from Hot 103.5, United Domestic Workers Union, Americans for the Arts, California Arts Council, Californians for the Arts, Capezio, the City of Sacramento, and more, this year's festival brings together dance lovers of all styles for an unforgettable celebration of movement, culture, and community. From Afro-fusion and hip hop to ballet and breaking, attendees will enjoy a vibrant mix of performances and hands-on experiences. The event will also recognize distinguished honorees including Mark S. Allen and Mayor Kevin McCarty, and feature an acclaimed lineup of instructors and performers such as Miss Tee, Pepper Von, Terry "TSU Terry" Wedington, KiLeigh Williams, DJ Shasha B, DJ Hannah Rose, Berenis Leonard, Kevin Luo, Kat Painter, and others.

across a series of locations, culminating in the 9th Annual California's Day of Dance celebration and concert on Saturday, June 14, at 4:30 p.m. PT at 2667 Del Paso Blvd. in Sacramento.

Sandifer, a Forbes 50 Culture Champion and LA Times Inspirational Woman, has transformed Studio T Arts and Entertainment from a Sacramento-based nonprofit into a nationwide hub for arts and economic equity. With alumni now dancing alongside Beyoncé, Drake, Usher, and Rihanna, and a $30 million arts education expansion in the works, her mission is clear: bring dance and opportunity to every corner of the state—and beyond. In addition to her many hats, Tamaira also served on the Americans for the Arts - Arts Education Council and holds the chair role on the board of California for the Arts, further cementing her legacy as a champion for youth and the arts.

California Day of Dance proves the arts aren't a luxury—they're a lifeline. We move for joy, we rise for our kids, and we dance for the future they deserve.”

Tamaira “Miss Tee” Sandifer

“California's Day of Dance is living proof that the arts aren't just a luxury—they are a vital force that ignites joy, fuels power, and transforms lives,” emphasized Sandifer. “At this year's celebration, we won't just move in unison—we will rise as one unstoppable community.”
