“As the daughter of Haitian immigrants, supporting a fundraiser that uplifts Haitian youth is deeply personal, said Drubys Ledbetter, owner of Zèb Boutique.” From my Boston College roots with Gosder, to my work as a clinician and mother of young athletes, this event brought together culture, community, and care for the next generation, three things that I value with all my heart.”

“This clinic is bigger than football—it’s about building confidence, discipline, and unity,” said Coach Brunache. “We’re giving our youth not just the tools to win on the field, but to lead in life. Every drill, every rep, every lesson is an investment in their future.”
