"Watch is our way of giving back to the creator community," said Kevin Van Ness, Director of Community at GlobalComix. "We know how hard it can be for comic YouTubers to get visibility in a sea of content. Watch puts their videos in front of the right audience - fans who are already here to read and love comics."

The feature allows YouTubers to retain all advertising revenue through YouTube's monetization system. GlobalComix encourages any interested creators producing relevant content to reach out by emailing contact@globalcomix.com.
