Hoosier College & Career Academy

HCCA, a full-time online public school serving Indiana students in grades 7–12, offers a personalized learning environment. Through its innovative curriculum, students have access to dual enrollment opportunities, career and technical education (CTE) programs, and project-based learning experiences. Notably, HCCA's high school courses have received NCAA approval, enabling student-athletes to meet academic requirements for collegiate sports eligibility.

"At HCCA, we focus on both the academic and career development of our students," said David Rarick, Head of School at HCCA. "This graduating class is ready for what's next, whether that's college, certification programs, or entering Indiana's workforce."

The Class of 2025's accomplishments reflect HCCA's commitment to fostering academic excellence and career readiness. Graduates have earned college credits, obtained industry-recognized certifications, and participated in real-world learning experiences, positioning them for success in their future endeavors.

As Indiana's demand for personalized learning continues to grow, online public education offers students the flexibility, support, and opportunity to thrive, no matter their background or learning style. With a focus on academic achievement, career readiness, and whole student support, virtual schools like HCCA are removing barriers and redefining what is possible in public education.
