The Child Fund by Al Jalila Foundation plays a critical role in ensuring that children facing urgent health challenges receive the care they desperately need, from life-saving treatments to specialised therapies and interventions. Anna's support helps make this care accessible to young patients who would otherwise be unable to afford it, offering them not only hope but also a chance at a healthier future.

Health is a basic right that every child deserves. I hope to make a tangible impact in the lives of children and their families.”

Anna Morgenstern

“Health is a basic right that every child deserves. By supporting The Child Fund by Al Jalila Foundation, I hope to make a tangible impact in the lives of children and their families while encouraging others to contribute to building a more equitable future,” said Anna Morgenstern.

Known for her decades-long commitment to social causes, Anna has actively championed initiatives across healthcare, education and women's empowerment. This latest contribution is yet another chapter in her journey of purpose-driven leadership. It also serves as an invitation to the wider community, individuals and organisations alike, to join the movement for change.

By investing in children's well-being today, Anna Morgenstern exemplifies how visionary leadership can help shape a healthier and more inclusive tomorrow.
