property owners now have a new go-to team for demolition and excavation services. Blue Tree Resources, known across the region for reliable hauling and site services, has officially expanded its offerings to include full-scale demolition services and professional excavation. The move answers a growing demand for safe, fast, and efficient site preparation as construction and renovation projects surge throughout the area.

“People often don’t know where to start when they need demo or excavation. They might call around to a few contractors or ask a neighbor, but finding someone reputable can be hard,” said Blue Tree Resources founder and CEO David Baker. “We are changing that. Our team is bringing the same level of professionalism and care we are known for in hauling to demolition and excavation. Now when someone calls us, they can get the whole job done right.”

Blue Tree Resources serves both residential and commercial clients across Northern Colorado. Their demolition services include selective demo, full tear-downs, and structure removal. On the excavation side, the company offers grading, trenching, site prep, and precision digging for new construction or major remodels.

What makes Blue Tree different is their commitment to clean, safe, and community-minded service. Every project begins with careful planning and ends with proper debris removal and site clean-up. Their operators use modern equipment and follow stringent safety protocols.

“Blue Tree was fantastic to work with,” said recent client Matt H. of Fort Collins. “We needed an old outbuilding torn down and the site prepped for a new shop. They handled everything quickly and safely, and the property looked great when they finished.”

The launch of these new demolition and excavation services reflects Blue Tree Resources’ ongoing commitment to delivering professional excavation, demolition, grading, property cleanup, and tree removal services for property owners across Northern Colorado.

“Clients have been asking for this for a while,” said Baker. “We are proud to now say, yes, we can help with that.” Blue Tree Resources continues to serve the greater Fort Collins, Loveland, Windsor, Greeley, Longmont, and surrounding areas.

Blue Tree Resources: A symbol of strength, stability, and tailored support.
