Announces New Tutoring Services for
Non-Insurance School of Tampabay
Students*

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, June 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Christopher Kazor, Chief Academic Officer of the Insurance School of Tampa Bay, is pleased to announce the launch of tutoring services specifically designed for non-Insurance School of Tampa Bay students.

Currently, all Insurance School of Tampabay students receive complimentary tutoring through our Office Hours program. During Office Hours, Property and Casualty students can participate on Tuesdays, while Life and Health students can attend on Wednesdays.

Our students have been thriving with this vital support, and Office Hours have proven to be invaluable, showing remarkable results.”

Learning Through Understanding

"Learnig through understanding"

These sessions allow students to review test results and case studies, enhancing their understanding of insurance concepts. Instructors may provide additional video resources and tailor exams and exercises for students, which will be conveniently accessible on their class dashboard. The following week, students will have the opportunity to review these assignments with the instructor, who will clarify answers and direct them to relevant chapters and resources for deeper understanding.

"Our students have been thriving with this vital support," said Kazor. "Office Hours have proven to be invaluable, showing remarkable results."

Recently, several students from other institutions have reached out to us expressing their struggles, noting that many schools do not offer extra help or tutoring for their students, let alone for those from different programs.

During a Board meeting on June 9th, HelpingClicks Corp—the parent company of the Insurance School of Tampa Bay—decided to extend the Office Hours tutoring program to include students from outside our institution.

To encourage participation, we are excited to offer the following tutoring packages for NON-Insurance School of Tampa Bay Students:

Private Online Tutoring:

- 4 Hours: $160 / student
- 10 Hours: $350 / student
- 20 Hours: $600 / student

Group Online Tutoring:

- 4 Hours: $100 / student
- 10 Hours: $230 / student
- 20 Hours: $400 / student

When asked about how the online tutoring will be structured, Kazor explained: "Each of our current students, whether pre-licensed or in continuing education, receives a personalized dashboard upon registration. This dashboard includes video classes, quizzes, exams, and, in some cases, case studies for students to complete at their convenience. The beauty of our system is that students can study anytime, 24/7, 365 days a year.

Students from outside the Insurance School of Tampa Bay who sign up for tutoring will also receive a personalized dashboard, which will include a link to a tailored exam. After completing the exam, the instructor will review the results and develop a customized study plan, uploading various videos, quizzes, and vocabulary exercises directly to the dashboard. session, the instructor will monitor the student's progress, allowing for a dynamic approach to learning. This enables instructors to specifically address each student's weaknesses by incorporating additional videos, quizzes, and vocabulary exercises as needed."

Christopher Kazor, Chief Academic Officer of the Insurance School of Tampabay, is a Certified Insurance Counselor, Emeritus, and holds a LUTCF Fellowship from the Life Underwriting Training Council. Additionally, he is a Certified Distance Education Instructor (CDEI).
