This service expansion reflects the company's long-standing mission to offer effective, eco-conscious cleaning methods that promote a healthier lifestyle for clients throughout Washington. By combining industry-leading hot-water technology with non-toxic, plant-based products, Green Carpet's Cleaning delivers powerful results that are both safe for children and gentle on the planet.

“Parents deserve peace of mind knowing that their carpets are truly clean and completely safe for kids to play on,” said a spokesperson for the company. “Our new hot-water method gives them that confidence.”

Hot-water extraction—often referred to as steam cleaning—is widely regarded as one of the most effective methods for removing deep dirt, allergens, bacteria, and stubborn stains from carpet fibers. However, many traditional cleaning services still use harsh chemicals in the process. Green Carpet's Cleaning sets itself apart by pairing the deep-cleaning power of hot water with a chemical-free formula designed specifically for homes with babies, toddlers, and allergy-sensitive occupants.

The service is ideal for:

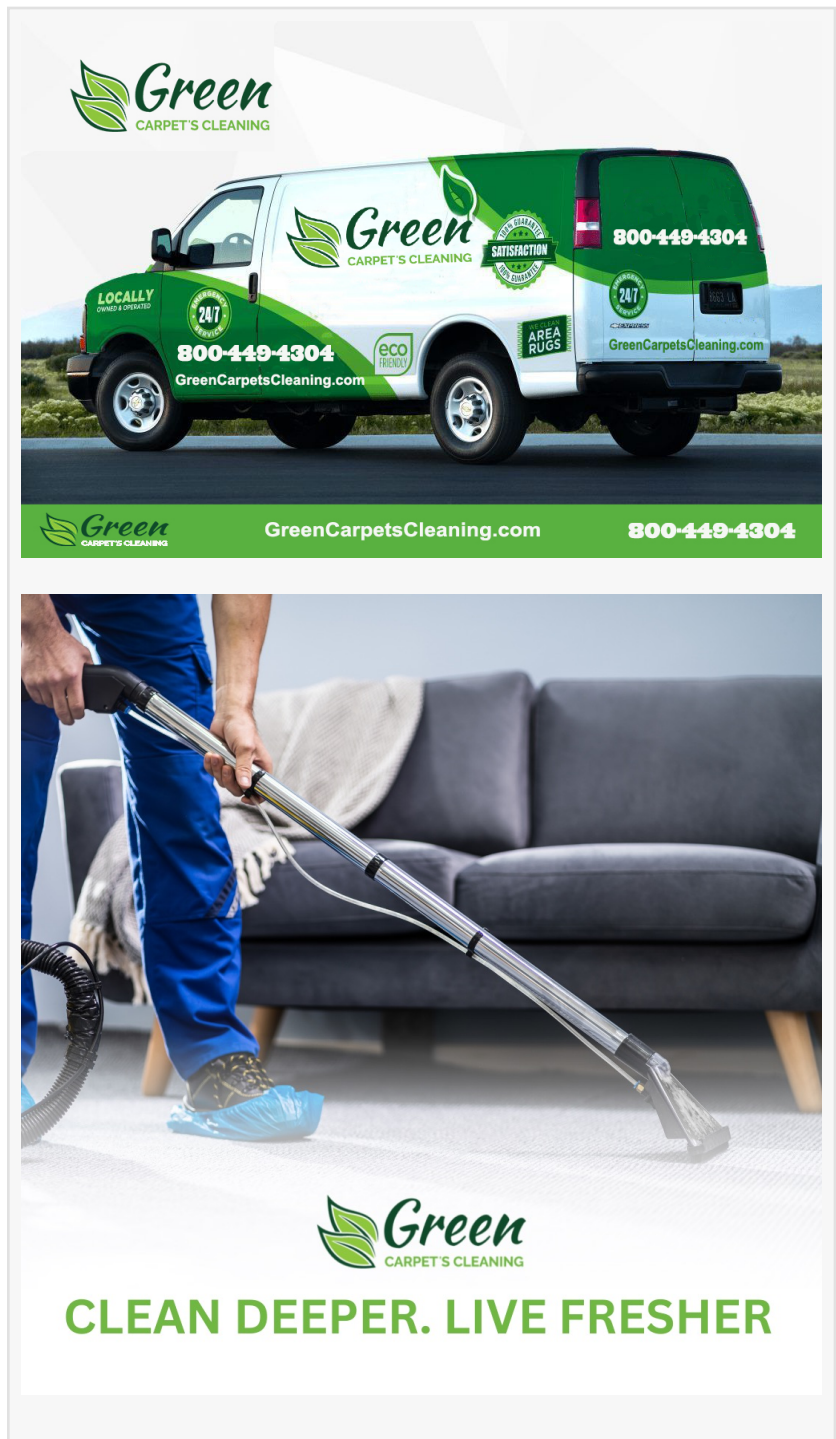

1. Nurseries and play areas
2. Family rooms and high-traffic living spaces
3. Homes with crawling infants or children with sensitivities

Customers can schedule same-day or next-day appointments in many areas, with trained, licensed technicians arriving on-site equipped with low-water-usage systems and biodegradable cleaners.

In addition to carpets, the service can be extended to mattresses, upholstery, and area rugs, offering a full-home solution for clients who want a cleaner, safer indoor space without exposing their families to unnecessary chemicals.

Green Carpet's Cleaning has seen growing interest in wellness-driven services as more homeowners shift toward green living and non-toxic products. This hot-water extraction offering complements the company's broader lineup of services, including rug care, drapery cleaning, and stain removal—all delivered with an emphasis on sustainability and client care.

With this latest innovation, Green Carpet's Cleaning reinforces its role as a trusted, forward-thinking partner for families who want their homes to be not just clean, but healthy.
