

KKday Offers Travel Packages to WATERBOMB 2025 in Sokcho, Korea

TAIPEI, TAIWAN, June 16, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- WATERBOMB 2025, one of South Korea's most anticipated summer festivals, will take place on August 23, 2025, at Hanwha Resort in Sokcho. Known for combining live music with immersive water effects, the festival features a high-energy mix of K-POP, hip-hop, and EDM performances alongside giant water fights and splash zones.

Headlining the Sokcho edition this year are CHUNG HA, CHANGMO, ASH ISLAND, and LEE YOUNG JI, with DJs and performers scheduled to light up the stage from day to night. This unique festival experience blends the excitement of a live concert with the atmosphere of a massive outdoor water party, creating a playful, unfiltered way to celebrate summer.

At its core, Waterbomb is more than just a music festival—it's an all-day, open-air celebration where attendees are encouraged to come equipped with water guns, ready for friendly team-based water battles in between artist sets. With performers often joining in the action, the boundary between stage and crowd blurs, turning the entire venue into a fully interactive experience. Each city stop offers its own spin on the festival, and Sokcho, with its coastal setting and cooler summer breeze, provides a refreshing backdrop for the event.

Waterbomb 2024 turned up the heat across Asia and beyond, with explosive splash-filled stages in cities like Seoul, Busan, Tokyo, Singapore, and Dubai. Thousands gathered at each stop to experience the unique blend of live K-POP and hip-hop performances, massive water fights, and high-energy summer vibes—cementing Waterbomb’s reputation as a global summer festival phenomenon.
