Tiffany Snyder, FNP-C, is a board-certified nurse practitioner with extensive training in medical aesthetics and facial anatomy. Known for her precision and compassionate approach, Tiffany specializes in delivering subtle yet transformative results tailored to each client's unique goals.

Jamie McMorris, RN, BSN, LE, combines her clinical expertise as a registered nurse with her licensed esthetician background to offer a comprehensive understanding of skin health and injectables. Her patients appreciate her meticulous technique and dedication to achieving balanced, youthful outcomes.

Jolie Rose-Lyle, RN, brings a sharp eye for facial aesthetics and a deep understanding of injectable artistry. Her personalized approach focuses on enhancing natural features, restoring confidence, and ensuring comfort at every step of the process.

Together, these expert injectors at Aesthetic Labs offer a range of non-surgical rejuvenation services, including:

Neurotoxins (Botox®, Dysport®, Xeomin®) for smoothing fine lines and dynamic wrinkles

Dermal fillers to restore volume, contour features, and enhance lips and cheeks

Customized treatment plans designed to complement individual beauty and achieve subtle, stunning results

"We're thrilled to have Tiffany, Jamie, and Jolie as the faces of our injectables team," said Dr. Nandeesh Veerappa, MD, owner of Aesthetic Labs. "Their combined skills, professionalism, and commitment to patient safety make them leaders in the field and trusted partners in helping clients look and feel their best."

Clients are invited to schedule a consultation with Tiffany, Jamie, or Jolie to explore how Aesthetic Labs' injectables can redefine their look with confidence and care.
