Annual list honors excellence in company culture and employee experience

NEW ORLEANS, LA, UNITED STATES, June 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- HR NOLA is thrilled to announce that it has been named to Inc. Magazine's 2025 Best Workplaces list, which honors U.S.-based companies that are setting the standard for workplace success and cultivating exceptional cultures that empower employees and drive business forward.

Featured on Inc.com, the 2025 list is the result of a rigorous evaluation process conducted by Quantum Workplace, a leading HR technology provider. Companies were selected based on a comprehensive employee survey that measured key workplace factors, including management effectiveness, benefits, professional development opportunities, and overall company culture. In total, 514 companies were recognized for their commitment to creating outstanding work environments, both in-person and remote.

"At HR NOLA, we believe people are the greatest asset of any business, including ours," said Amy Bakay, SHRM-SCP, founder and CEO of HR NOLA. "This is the third time we have received this honor from Inc., which validates what we've always known, that a strong, people-first culture isn't just good for morale, it's good for business. We're proud to be recognized for the care we take in supporting our team and clients alike.”

“Inc.’s Best Workplaces program celebrates the exceptional organizations whose workplace cultures address their employees’ welfare and needs in meaningful ways,” says Bonny Ghosh, editorial director at Inc. “As companies expand and adapt to changing economic forces, maintaining such a culture is no small feat. Yet these honorees have not only achieved it—they continue to elevate the employee experience through thoughtful benefits, engagement, and a deep commitment to their teams.”

This latest accolade joins a growing list of honors for HR NOLA, which was also named the Face of HR in New Orleans Magazine’s annual Faces of New Orleans issue, a celebration of standout professionals shaping the city’s culture and business landscape.
