

A Story of Grief, Pride, and Purpose. Introducing Caelthorne Art

I create from the edge of feeling – where memory burns, identity softens, and art becomes a lifeline, for a lifetime.

CAPE TOWN, WESTERN CAPE, SOUTH AFRICA, June 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Caelthorne Art, the multidisciplinary fine artist, today announced the release of a new body of mixed media artworks designed to support The Lady Isabel Foundation, a charity aiding women and children affected by domestic violence.

Each piece in the collection (Titled "Monochrome Rainbow") is created through Caelthorne's signature multi-stage process—beginning with the artist's own body as canvas, photographed through a self-directed lens, then evolved using generative portraiture and finally hand-rendered with mixed media on Fabriano paper. The artworks will be offered in limited editions, with proceeds supporting the Foundation's outreach, safe havens, and skills training initiatives.

I wish for my art to not just be seen; I want it to be felt, lived, and purposefully shared. Narrative, is the ultimate art. If what you see, doesn't touch your soul, then the artwork is not for you.”
