Running seven days across three themed weekends, from June 28 through July 13, the 2025 Faire promises new performances, expanded interactive experiences, a Friday July 4th celebration, and an epic Saturday night Pub Sing & Fire Show planned for July 5th.

All adventurers are welcome at the Midsummer Fantasy Renaissance Faire!

The Saturday night Pub Sing & Fire Show on July 5th will be a full after-hours party from 7:00–9:00 p.m., featuring fire jugglers, fire breathers, singing, and dancing. Food and beverages will be available for purchase. After-hours entry is included with July 5th daytime admission, or can be purchased separately (online or in person) for just $10 for adults and $5 for youth.

This year, MFRF also introduces the Gaming Glen, hosted by Cardboard Chaos Games. Guests can relax under the trees with a library of board games, daily challenges, and whimsical prizes from the Dragon's Horde or Auntie's treasure chest.

Looking for a challenge? Join Magibleu's Conundrum, an epic, live-action scavenger hunt! Find clues from vendors, solve magical mysteries, and even seek out hidden cheese. Three different levels of play—from sleuthing to silliness—ensure fun for all ages and skill levels.

A Fully Immersive, Interactive Experience

This season builds on the beloved fantasy world of The Shire of Anleigh, with a new chapter of interactive storytelling and dramatic spectacle performed by the Faire's scripted cast. New this year, guests will encounter an expanded roster of wandering characters, including the debut of the Queen's Court, who will interact with patrons throughout the grounds.

Buy a rose from one of our wandering vendors or hire a Swashbuckling Mercenary to 'shame thy friends' (or praise them, if you're feeling nice) with fluffy tomato torture. Of course, thy friends can exact vengeance at the Proving Grounds by challenging you to axe-throwing and archery, and even foam-safe medieval-style combat hosted by Citadel Battle Sports.

MFRF also proudly welcomes back Sustainable Collapse, a genre-blending LARP combining elements of science fiction, post-apocalyptic storytelling and high fantasy, as well as Dice Knights Adventures, which delivers a faire-wide RPG experience.

New Entertainment

MFRF continues to offer a rotating lineup of exciting performances each weekend, from live music and singing to juggling and daring stunts. Here are the new acts for Faire-goers this season:

Falconry Girl will bring the majesty of birds of prey to life in an educational and awe-inspiring presentation during Weekend 1.

For Weekend 2, The Marx Sisters arrive as bumbling would-be jousters from Bumpkinton who crash onto the scene with slapstick comedy and big dreams. Folk duo Rover's Way will headline the second Saturday Pub Sing, serenading the audience with stirring harmonies and historical tales.

And joining MFRF for the full run is newcomer Thom Fuewellery, a "classically trained" purveyor of the Bardic arts, hailing from a time and place so distant that even he can't quite recall it.

There's truly something for everyone in the 2025 lineup, which features more than a dozen other professional acts, including live steel combat and historic weaponry demonstrations.

Fairewide Shopping, Food & Beverages

With over 80 artisan vendors, guests can shop for handcrafted leather goods, jewelry and accessories, original art, and more. Delicious food options range from traditional turkey legs to innovative delights such as walking charcuterie cups, and everything in between. Quench your thirst with refreshing mocktails or a frozen treat from DaVinci's Snow Cone Contraption—an 8-foot-tall self-powered hamster wheel.

The Faire's two pubs will also serve up locally sourced libations from Bad Sons Beer Co. in Derby. Proceeds from pub sales will benefit Hole in the Wall Theater, a nonprofit in New Britain.

Finally, stop by the Pickle Booth for a refreshing treat or a daring but hydrating pickle juice shot.
