The CHPS360 platform reduces costs and improves efficiency throughout the Initial Outfitting, Transition, and Activation (IOT&A) lifecycle transforming an empty building into an active healthcare facility. The major projects at VA's medical center in Long Beach that will immediately benefit from this technology include an 80,000 sq. ft. Inpatient Mental Health Building, an 80,000 sq. ft. Outpatient Mental Health Building, and a 160,000 sq. ft. Community Living Center.

By creating an interactive digital twin of the facilities, CHPS360 empowers the VA activation team with AI-driven insights for superior planning, clash detection, and management of all furniture, fixtures, and equipment (FF&E).

“We are honored that CHPS360 has been selected by the VA for this significant project that will benefit Veterans in the Long Beach area,” said Geoffrey Perkins, President of Concourse Federal

Group. "By integrating AI and creating an interactive digital twin, CHPS360 will help deliver improved project outcomes and cost savings for our partners and the Veteran community."
